

Published based on This Woman: Was/Is Les/Bi?

This Woman: Was/Is Les/Bi?

Asked: This Woman: Was/Is Les/Bi?

This woman: was/is lesbian or bi?

As a first disclaimer, I'm not trying to generalize, just going on tendencies I've noticed in many lesbians/bi's. I have absolutely nothing against them; I'm bi myself.

Ok, on to the question. I've known this woman for over a year, and during that time we've gotten pretty close (not like what you're probably thinking; we're quite different in age and she's married besides). Anyway, I've wanted to ask her about it for a long time but I wanted to see if others thought there's a possibility that she's les/bi. So here are some factors, For is reasons for one to think she may be, against is reasons to think she isn't:

For:

- *Wears bandanas frequently
- *Wears boots all the time
- *Vegetarian
- *Muscular
- *Deep voice
- * Very masculine walk
- *vague and mysterious past (very little info, even to those close to her)
- *Uses rainbows/rainbow colors in her paintings
- *Watches "masculine" shows/movies like Lonesome Dove, Django Unchained, etc.
- * Competed until recently in events generally done by men (certain rodeo events)

Against:

- *Married to man (but only for 3 years)
- *Very occasionally wears skirts/dresses (literally no more than 3 times a year)

I don't know, For has more reasons and they are stronger reasons as well. It seems to me that she is/was les/bi, but what do you think?

-Again, no negative generalizations intended. Just pointing out some common characteristics she shares with some les/bi's. I understand many of these things will come across like that, but there was no other way for me to say it.-

Oh, and if you have any tips on how to ask her about it, please offer them. I really don't want our relationship to become awkward if she say's she isn't/wasn't. I'n thinking about coming out to her, but I'm not sure.

Thanks for any help you can offer!

Answers:

Answered:

None of the info you gave makes me think she is bisexual or a lesbian.

Answered:

She mostly just sounds like a no nonsense kinda woman to me. However, I have to meet someone in person to tell whether they set off my gaydar (and I don't have much of one for women anyway). Really, just follow your instincts with her walk and talk, her hobbies or whatever don't matter. And in general, her sexual orientation doesn't actually matter since you're not looking to date her, but it can be fun to speculate. Anyway, hopefully she's straight or bi, considering she's married.

Got a better answer? Share it below!

You can also find this article published on This Woman: Was/Is Les/Bi?, and on the tag pages Against Married, Answers Answered None, Django Unchained, Lonesome Dove.